It is stated, on what seems to be good authority, that the gross earnings of the road for the road for the road so long as the price of rails in this market is now too low to encourage importation, and so the cause of the advance, none of which, however, could be positively authenticated. It is stated, on what seems to be good authority, that the gross earnings of the road for the road manufacture will be reserved to the mills of the United States. During the past year the price of steel raise decided from $60 to $40 per ton, and should the duty be reduced $10 per ton, foreign raise could not be imported to profit under a price of $48 per ton here. The low price of raise encourages raisway building; and, so long as the demand for new roads does not exceed the regular capacity of the rail untils, the price is not likely to advance, thus insuring steady work what seems to be good authority, that the gross searnings of the road for the last year were nearly $12,000,000. The Post says:

"As the month progresses, and interest and dividend disbursenests come more freely into the market, there appears to be an increasing desire to find investment for money, though comparatively little has gone into indicate that last Friday was the turning be likely to advance, thus insuring steady work ikely to advance, thus insuring steady work point, both in volume of business and or both these industries, and a lower cost range in prices.
